It is with great honour that we certify that Andrea Serra, Holistic Psychologist and Master Coach and Director of PsiCoEstar, Lda., facilitated a Personal and Organizational Development Workshop for 30 members of our organization's IT team in June 2018.

The 3-day workshop was extremely valuable as it stimulated a deep process of self-observation, self-awareness and self-healing in participants using modern and innovative techniques and tools.

Her enthusiasm, passion, creativity, intuition and her gifts and talents resulted in an extremely valuable and unique experience for each one of the participants with tremendous impact on their work performance and productivity as well as their personal lives.

We would recommend her work to any organization who is compromised and focus on develop inspirational leadership.
